Title: Development of Inner talent through Sports

Objective:

Jeevandeep Shaikshanik Sanstha Poi established Arts Commerce and Science at Goveli with the prime objective to give students opportunity for higher education and to transform lives through the means of higher education. The institution opened the doors for the economically backward students in the nearby rural areas who were deprived of higher education. The institution started putting more efforts towards Overall personality development of the students along with encouraging their talents and education. The faculty members consciously worked towards identifying the raw and hidden talents among the students in these rural areas which led to a new beginning and emergence of an era for jeevandeep Shaikshanik Sanstha.

Context:

It is well known that the citizens from the rural and tribal areas have to face a lot of difficulties and challenges for basic amenities essential to live a comfortable life. In the nearby areas of Goveli, the citizens face the same challenges with electricity, water resources, transportation, agriculture ,employment and a lot more . The lifestyle of these rural people is such that it demands from them to walk miles for basic things like water and primary or secondary education due to the lack of transportation. These students and young children grown into the arms of mother nature are hence naturally inclined towards activities like swimming, carrying weights , running and lot more . It is evidently found that the rural villages of our country hold a lot of potential which needs to be worked on with proper effort and dedication. The faculty from the sports department rightly identified such raw talent hidden among these young students. These students have immense potential and all they lack is the right guidance, coaching and the opportunity which can pose as a golden opportunity to prove the talent worthy of notice.

Problem encountered:

The institution focussed wholeheartedly on bringing these students to the right path and right direction with often providing them state , national and international levels of platform in order to exhibit their talents. Department of sports started working on motivating more and more students while making them realise the tremendous potential they held . The institute in its inception had to face a lot of challenges when it came to actually bringing the students on the ground. Most of the students are from economically weak backgrounds and hence it was a challenging task for the institution to work out everything including expenses for the proper diet. To overcome these obstacles and hurdles, our sports teachers acquired sponsorships from persons who generously offered the kind help . Whenever required, the sports teachers supported the students at their own expense.

Practice:

The gymnasium often was in dire need of modern sports equipment. The institution received kind assistance and support from time to time from various sources like District Sports Officers so to purchase essential equipments . The students often didn't have enough financial support for traveling whenever required , the institute always stood by the students and offered it to needy students. The institution has evidently been successful in managing the obstacles . Most importantly, many female athletes are now being trained for future competitions and the institution takes pride in that. Dealing with the mentality of parents who preferred not allowing female students to opt for sports was challenging. Our sports teachers at times visited the parents of such students personally and made them aware of the necessity of being supportive of their daughters. These teachers often created deep awareness transforming the lives of many students helping them understand their true potential. The parents who initially hesitated were convinced of how it was life-changing to train their daughters for a sport that could lead to financial freedom and development in all aspects of life.

Evidence of success:

One of the biggest challenges for the institution and sports department primarily was to create a positive outlook in the minds of parents and students. The institution overcame finding its own way through the long hurdles like convincing the parents of female students to choose sports as a career.

The hard-work of the sports teachers and institution came into fruition when our students who never had heard of the sports criteria, won national and international medals in the same . Many of our students from the sports background have received opportunities to work in government jobs . This brings a lot of satisfaction to the institution as a whole.
